FIRST GAME OF SEASON.

Trinity Plays Worcester Tech. Tomorrow.

Trinity opens her season tomorrow with a game against Worcester Tech. on Trinity Field. As neither team has played any other game this fall, it is impossible to predict the outcome of Saturday's conflict, but as past records show that Trinity usually has the stronger team, it would be very disappointing and unexpected to have Worcester take the large end of the score.

Scrimmage practice was held four days last week and in this the work of the 'varsity was quite ragged. In defensive play and in the offensive work of the back field the team is still far below the standard of last year. However, the men are working cheerfully and intelligently and barring injuries, there is no reason why the team should not be at its best when it meets Amherst a week from tomorrow.

Coach and players live now in deadly fear of twisted ankles and pulled tendons, because such an injury to a 'varsity man would severely cripple the team, owing to the lack of first-class substitutes. Collett is now suffering with a bad leg, which, although it does not keep him out of the game, greatly handicaps his running. Fitzpatrick is nursing a pair of tender knees, and trying to prevent the "Charley horse" which laid him up last season. Hudson and Lawlor both have weak ankles. The line has been greatly strengthened by the return of Kinney, who, after several days devoted exclusively to hard study, succeeded in passing off two conditions which had made him ineligible. His presence is a great help in the line. Trinity will go into the game tomorrow with one substitute in the line-up, John Moore taking James Moore's place at right guard.

CLASS ELECTIONS.

Three Classes Choose Officers for Christmas Term.

The following classes have recently elected their officers for the first half of the ensuing year:

Class of 1913:

President, John B. Moore, of Geneva, N. Y.; vice-president, Chester D. Ward, of New York, N. Y.; secretary and treasurer, Francis E. Williams, of Utica, N. Y.; historian, Daniel B. Dawley, of Providence, R. I.

Class of 1914:

President, Theodore F. Wessels, of Portland, Conn.; vice-president, Frank G. Stadtmueller, of Elmwood, Conn.; secretary and treasurer, Horace Fort, of Ellicott City, Md.; historian, Edward Pinkney Wroth, of Baltimore, Md.

Class of 1915:

President, Herbert E. Ryerson, of Erie, Penn'a; vice-president, Ronald E. Kinney, of Brooklyn, N. Y.; secretary and treasurer, Albert E. Dunsford, of Monson, Mass.

BUST OF PRESIDENT LUTHER.

Work of Louis Potter, '96, Installed in Library.

The first attraction to the eye as one enters the library, is a striking resemblance of President Luther in bronze. This life-size bust was placed there during the summer, having been presented to the college by the class of 1896, whose fifteenth reunion was held last June. The sculptor, fittingly enough, is also a '96 man, Louis Potter, who chiseled the bust of President Pynchon, and who stands in the front rank of American sculptors today.

The bust was formally unveiled and presented at the alumni luncheon, Tuesday, June 27. The acceptance on the part of the trustees was made by the Hon. William Hamersley, LL. D. The sculptor was present and was forced to yield to the clamorous demands for a speech.

The luncheon was a most pronounced success, the gymnasium being taxed to its capacity. The president of the alumni association, George D. Howell, '82, presided. The luncheon took the place of the old commencement day dinner, and judging by the attendance, the change was a welcome one to most of the alumni.

THE 1913 IVY.

The 1913 Ivy board, headed by W. S. Marsden as editor-in-chief, is already hard at work on the year-book, and the rest of the juniors are busy getting pictures taken in graceful poses, where-with to decorate its pages. The resignation of D. S. Pulford made necessary the election of a new business manager, the honor falling to Allan B. Cook.

Editor Marsden hasn't much to say about the projected contents of the book, but it is safe to predict that it will contain some pleasant surprises.

PERSONNEL OF SENATE.

The Senate at present is constituted as follows: President, William A. Bird, IV, (also representing The Tripod and Alpha Delta Phi); for 1913, John B. Moore; for 1914, William B. Spofford, (also representing Psi Epsilon); the president of the athletic association, William Short, Jr., (also representing I. K. A.); the captain of the football team, Charles H. Howell; for Delta Psi, Charles R. Whipple; for Delta Kappa Epsilon, Harry Wessels; for Phi Gamma Delta, Clarence I. Penn; for Alpha Chi Rho, Thomas F. Flanagan; for the neutral body, Nicholas V. Walsh; for the Hartford Club, Everett M. Fairbanks.

15,965 YALE MEN ALIVE.

Total Number of Graduates from the institution is 26,313.

Of Yale graduates living and dead there are now a total of 26,313 according to the new quinquennial catalogue of the university published today. It is the successor of the old triennial catalogue. Of the total number of graduates 15,965 are living and 10,348 are dead. In the list of living and dead the graduates of the Academic Department number 16,098; of the Scientific School, 4,461, and of the Law School, 2,066.

According to the previous catalogue published in 1904, the total number of graduates was 22,135, of whom 12,744 were living and 9,391 were dead. A comparison of the two catalogues shows that the living graduates of Yale are increasing at the rate of about 537 a year, while the list of dead increases at the rate of about 176 a year.

PROF. GETTELL'S NEW BOOK.

Supplementary to his "Introduction to Political Science".

Professor Raymond G. Gettell is the author of a new volume, published by Ginn & Company, entitled "Readings in Political Science". It consists of over 500 selections from political writers of all ages in the world's development, and is designed to be a convenient sourcebook for students of political theory. It follows very closely the plan of Prof. Gettell's previous volume, "An Introduction to Political Science".

The Boston Transcript devotes nearly a column to a review of the work, closing with these words: All that we have said gives a very inadequate idea of the rich mine of political wisdom that awaits the reader of this splendid volume. This work will supplement the textbook, and give to the student the standpoints of the best of the different writers: thus his views will be broadened. And the citizen who is intelligently patriotic will receive it as a veritable treasury of political knowledge which will help him to understand the different political movements today, and thus fit him to act intelligently his part as a patriotic citizen. Knowing all theories of the State and all forms of government, he can better appreciate his own and see wherein it may be improved.

"NOW THEN, TRINITY."

Editorial.

The dominant note in everything pertaining to Trinity College is progress.

The entering class is again a record-breaker. The total registration is the largest in the history of the college.

The alumni association is in a flourishing condition, and individual alumni are filled with enthusiasm for the college. College finances are on a sound basis.

The football team will again be a winner, if the signs are of any value. The Y. M. C. A. is alive, the senate is active, the student publications are in the hands of men who will not be content with anything short of signal success.

In short, all our institutions are in fine condition. The social framework is complete.

But the problem of the individual needs attention. The only solution is the personal interest of each separate man. The best possible social organization cannot eliminate the personal equation.

The athletic association will be wrecked unless YOU spur yourself to join it. The football team will strive in vain unless YOU lend your presence and your voice. The Tripod will be worse than valueless unless YOU do your small part. A missing cog is often worse than a missing fly-wheel. An engine that will not run is at least harmless; an engine that runs amuck is a menace.

If you can't help, don't hinder. If you can't run, stay out of the race—don't get in the way of others who can. If you won't be a Trinity man, go somewhere else. It's a case of "get in line or get out."

The Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company

Hartford, Conn.

Why should I insure my life?
Because it is a debt you owe to those who are dependent upon your earnings for their support.

You admit that it is your duty to supply their needs from day to day, but forget that it is equally your duty to provide an ever-ready and sufficient equivalent for your earning power, which your family stands in constant jeopardy to lose by your premature death.

Guard your family against disaster and yourself against dependency in old age.

When should I insure my life?

Now! The cost will never be less, and tomorrow you may not be able to obtain insurance at any price.

Even if others are not now dependent upon you, take time by the forelock and you will be the better able to meet future responsibilities and at a smaller premium.

Where shall I insure my life?

In a purely Mutual Company.
In a company that earns, declares, and pays annual dividends.
In a company that is doing a conservative business.

Such a company is The Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Co.
of Hartford, Conn. It furnishes perfect protection at lowest cost.

For further information, address
the Company, or any of its agents.

Intercollegiate Notes.

Amherst has six veterans on her football team this year, and an average squad of about twenty-six.

There are 140 men in the class of 1915
at Amherst, and they won an easy victory in the flag rush.

At Wesleyan the sophomores won the flag scrap after three minutes of fighting, by breaking the flagpole, and thus lowering the colors of 1915.

Massachusetts Agricultural College has adopted a set of rules governing the rushing of freshmen by the fraternities, which run as follows:

1—The rushing season shall open
the day college opens.

2—The rushing season shall end at 6 o'clock on Sunday evening, the 19th of November.

3—Freshmen shall pledge during chapel on the second Monday before Thanksgiving.

4—Candidates for fraternities must be undergraduates, and must also be candidates for a four-year degree.

5—The rushing of freshmen is to be done only by the undergraduates, members of the fraternities of this college.
